SIX BIG REELS

of the most Marvelous Motion Picture ever taken, costing over $250,000 to produce.

Everyone should see this picture as it is instructive as well as interesting.

There was but one consolation to the moment of February, its brevity.

The Ladies of the M. E. Church will have an exchange Saturday April 11th.

March certainly "came in like a lion" let us hope it will "go out like a lamb."

When it comes to varacity, Mr. G. Hox is a close second to Mr. G. Washington.

About the only historical day of any moment during March is St. Patrick's Day which is the 17th.

Turnip greens and Spring poets have been given a decided backset, as the crops bid fair to be late this season.

The coal man will relate to his progeny the volume of business he did during "the month of February 1914."

The "call" of the old "square dance" as given by Col. Booker recalled the days when our grand parents tripped the light fantastic before the tango, bunny hug and other hugs were thought of.

Jay Birds and Robins have arrived, but that sure harbinger of Spring, the Blue Bird, has not yet put in his appearance.

In Danville they are arresting dogs for playing on the street. Were this rule made applicable in Lancaster, the official dog catcher would be kept busy and Uncle Dave Ross' hostility would not accommodate his prisoners.

Don't forget the Candy Sales which are being held by the young ladies in Mr. R. S. Brown's store every Saturday. All kinds of dainty sweets and the proceeds are divided among the four churches every week.

When the law creating the State Insurance Board was adopted two years ago, when opposition came entirely from the insurance companies and their representatives, the conditions were very different in regard to the Glen bill as it was opposed with equal energy by the men who write the insurance and the men who contract with the companies for insurance upon their property.

OLD FASHION CANDY PULLING.

F. M. Tindler's Bible class will have a candy pulling at the Court House, Friday night, March 6th. Come Every body. Admission ten cents. 2-26-2t.

Judge Burnside's Condition.

Judge Burnside continues ill at his residence on Stanford street in this city. He seems to have a good day and a bad one, but upon the whole it is thought that his condition is gradually improving, at least his legion of friends are hoping that such may be true.

Garrard County Tobacco Crop.

Conservative men, and those who are in a position to know, estimate that Garrard county's tobacco crop for 1913 was close to the five million mark. The acreage, had the conditions been favorable would have made the crop far beyond that, but the drought cut it short. It is thought that the average price realized was about 12 cents, however this is hard to arrive at, as the crop was marketed at so many different places. The acreage this year will exceed that of last, and if conditions prove favorable, it is thought that there will be at least seven million pounds raised in the county this year.

All Honor To Them.

Lancaster colored men are natural fire fighters. It was in a great measure due to their noble efforts that the Presbyterian church on last Sunday morning was not a complete sacrifice to the flames. Side by side with the white men, fighting heroically, tirelessly, covered with ice and water, never quitting until the last spark was extinguished, they fought as if their own property was at stake. Following out to the minutest detail the orders of those in authority, and in an intelligent and effective manner, they rendered every assistance in their power, and in a manner which would have done credit to a regular organized fire department.

Tobacco Warehouse Closes For Season.

The Lancaster Tobacco Warehouse prized and shipped their last hoghead Tuesday and Jake Grau left for Louisville where he will doubtless be assigned to some other point where the services of a first class man such as he undoubtedly is, is in demand for the next few months.

This firm, Chas. Speith & Co., has purchased very close to the million mark here this year, and their books show their purchase to have averaged more than thirteen cents per pound. It will be good news to the farmers of the county to know that Mr. Will Speith the popular manager as well as Jake Grau his assistant, will return here for the handling of the 1914 crop.

Very Applicable In Lancaster.

An exchange gives the following story anent the purchasing of goods from mail order houses:

"A farmer who was carrying an express package from a city mail order house, was accosted by a local merchant: 'Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and build up this locality.' With characteristic frankness, the farmer asked: 'Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know you had the goods I have here, nor do I ever see your name in the paper inviting one to come to your store.'"

More Fish For Kentucky Streams.

Through the instrumentality of Senator James, ten million young fish are to be placed in Kentucky streams during this year. Dix river, the best bass stream in the state, and for that matter in the country, will of course come in for a liberal share of these fish. This stream during the last year or two has been unusually free from the ravages of seiners, dynamiters and other illegal means of fishing, and if this protection can be continued, this stream will in the next few years come to be known as one of the best fish streams in the country. The stream has all the advantages and environments of a mountain stream, and is particularly adapted to the propagation of bass and other game fish, and if the supply which Sen. James proposes to furnish is given the proper protection, it will be but a matter of a few years when Dix river will again be literally alive with the game fish that inhabit inland streams.

Stop It Boys.

At the entertainment at the Graded School last week we were sorry to notice the revival of a once popular and very disagreeable custom which thrived in Lancaster, namely the greeting of the advent of a young couple in to a public place by cat calls, whistling and stamping of feet. This is no doubt due to thoughtlessness upon the part of the young people who take part in it, but it is to say the least of it, very ill bred. In addition to this it is a source of embarrassment to those who are subjected to it. Suppose for instance, you were a stranger in a strange place and were to accompany a young lady to a public place, and your arrival by such an ovation was given some strangers on last Thursday night, would you not feel embarrassed. Think boys before you do such things, and we are sure you will discontinue such embarrassing practices.

Business Change.

Mr. J. Wesley Walker has purchased of Mr. John Ross his one half interest in the meat shop and grocery of Ross & Whitlock, and the firm will be Whitlock & Walker in future. Mr. Ross will devote his entire attention to his stock yards, that business having assumed such large proportions as to necessitate him giving more time to it. He will also look after his farm near town on the Stanford pike.

Poor Ice Harvest In Garrard.

Many of our exchanges tell of the harvesting of a splendid quality of ice during the recent cold snap. There was very little ice harvested in Garrard, and what was gathered was of inferior quality, only about two inches thick and with a layer of snow incased between two layers of ice. The streams were not sufficiently frozen to permit of gathering ice, and the pond ice was indifferent in quality and thickness. However, the gathering of ice in this county is an industry of the past, very few country people lay in a supply, because of the fact that the manufactured article is both cheaper and of a superior quality.

Same Old "Sunny Bill".

Letters to friends here from "Billy" West in Tulsa Okla., tell of his taking part recently in a home talent negro minstrel show, which during a two nights performance netted for its promoters the neat sum of $1500. Many there are in Lancaster who would give a neat sum to once more see Billy as a black face artist. He is manager of the oil interests of his brother Charlie, who at present is taking out about $1500, per month, and if "things turn out right" he will in the near future, as Billy puts it, "be on the sunny side of easy street". Well we rejoice to hear of the boys doing well, and hope their fondest hopes may be realized, but the "aft laid plans of mice and men after gang a-glee", and many oil men have been equally as successful only to be "taken to cloth", and we sincerely hope this may not be the fate of our Lancaster boys.

Many Hoping For His Entire Recovery.

Mr. John C. C. Mayo of Paintsville has been removed from his home to a Cincinnati hospital, and notwithstanding he continues in a delirious condition, his physicians assert that his condition is improved and that he will recover. He is suffering with acute Bright's disease. Kentucky has few more magnanimous men than John C. Mayo. A millionaire, he yet believes in making his money do good to his fellowman. Even since his recent severe illness he has given proof of his magnanimous disposition by offering to cash the voucher of every Confederate pensioner in the state without discount. This will involve the expenditure of something like $100,000, upon which he would receive no interest, and with the present depleted condition of the state treasury, no assurance of the amount expended being refunded to him in the near future.

Wants To Get Back In Mail Service.

The following appeared in "Rich's" Washington notes in The Danville Advocate:

"Mr. William Leslie Herndon, formerly of Lancaster, Ky., is in Washington, having come here for the purpose of getting a re-hearing on his case. He formerly held a position in the railway mail service, but believes he was 'railroaded' out of the service and he wants a full and fair hearing. Mr. Herndon now resides just outside of the city of Louisville."

"Les" Herndon is a son of Capt. William Herndon of this place and for many years was in the U. S. Mail service. He was severely injured in a wreck on the Louisville Southern R. R., but returned to the service again. Of recent years he has been conducting a thrifty chicken farm at Crestwood near Louisville.

Legislatures Days Nearing End.

The Kentucky Legislature will adjourn sine die, March 17th, St. Patrick's day, and until that time they will be just about as busy as the proverbial bee. Up to now there has only six measures passed both houses and gone to the Governor for his signature before coming laws. The Committee on Rules will take charge of all legislation in the House tomorrow, Friday, and there has been talk scrambling to get everything in shape before that August body takes charge of matters. The Greene-Glenn bill, the famous insurance measure has passed from the hands of the law makers and is now up to the Governor, his attitude toward the measure is not known, but it is the popular belief that he will give it his stamp of approval.

Strong hopes are entertained by its advocates that the Revenue and Taxation measure will pass before the end of the session. Much interest centers upon the proposed new form of appropriation, a "budget measure" being in process of formation, which will provide for the dispensing of public funds in such a manner as to keep a complete and accurate check upon all disbursements. It is said that when this measure will come before the Legislature it will show that the Appropriations Committee has hearkened to the retrenchment slogan and has made an effort to save money in all departments and to eventually free the state from debt.

Prof. Evans' Assailant Gets 1 To 5 Years In Pen.

In the circuit court Mack Brock charged with an assault upon Prof. Ben Evans was found guilty and given an indeterminate sentence of from one to five years in the penitentiary. Prof. Evans was teaching school near Coy in this county when a difficulty took place between him and Brock, and later in the day Brock met the Professor in the road and struck him on the head with a rock, inflicting a very painful wound, and from which Prof. Evans was confined to his bed for several weeks.

Walter Hiatt Assists In Writing Interesting Story.

"Making The Sea Safer" is the subject of an interesting story in the current issue of the Outlook, by Messrs. Mason and Hiatt, and of one of the authors, "Rich" in his Washington letter has the following to say: "One of the collaborators of this story, Mr. Hiatt, formerly lived at Lancaster and is well known in Central Kentucky. He has been living in New York for a number of years, where he devotes himself to newspaper and magazine work. He has met with pronounced success. He has been making and effort recently to get into the consular service with the hope that it will broaden his scope to the end that he can become a writer of novels."

"Two Old Confederates" Prove Highly Entertaining.

The "Two Old Confederates" delighted a large audience at the Auditorium of the High School on last Thursday night. The old fashioned square dance with callers accompaniment was one of the features of the evening, and brought memories of bygone days to many of those present, and the patting of feet through the audience in accompaniment to the music sounded like the tramp of a regiment of soldiers. The two old gentlemen were interesting in both song and story, and the quartette of colored men which they carried, shared the honors equally with them. The two old soldiers were the recipients of much kind attention while in Lancaster, those who wore the blue seeming to vie with the wearers of the gray in making their stay a pleasant one. Capt. William Herndon, and Mr. Gus Dunn both of whom espoused the Union cause during the Civil war, and Capt. A. T. Anderson, a veteran of both the Mexican and the Spanish-American wars, occupied seats of honor on the stage throughout the performance.

Fire Sunday Morning Damages Presbyterian Church.

Fire Sunday morning damaged the Presbyterian church to the extent of several hundred dollars, and it looked for some time as if the handsome edifice was doomed to utter destruction, but willing hands finally succeeded in subduing the flames with comparatively small loss. The fire broke out just about the hour for morning services, just after the closing of the Sunday School exercises. Smoke was discovered coming from the basement, and upon investigation a brisk blaze was discovered in the furnace room, evidently originating there among a lot of trash which had collected. The flames quickly mounted to the church properly and soon the entire structure was enveloped in smoke, and it appeared to outsiders that the structure was doomed. However a line of hose was taken through the smoke and flames and through herculean efforts upon the part of the fire fighters, the flames were subdued. The vestibule and balcony were badly injured by fire, and the entire edifice was more or less damaged by water. The loss was fully covered by insurance.

It has developed since the fire that the damage was not as great as was at first apprehended; the vestibule and balcony, while damaged to some extent, can be repaired at small cost, and the principal damage is to the hot air pipes which lead from the furnace and which are of wood, these were burned. It has also been determined that the fire originated from these wooden conductors becoming overheated and catching fire.

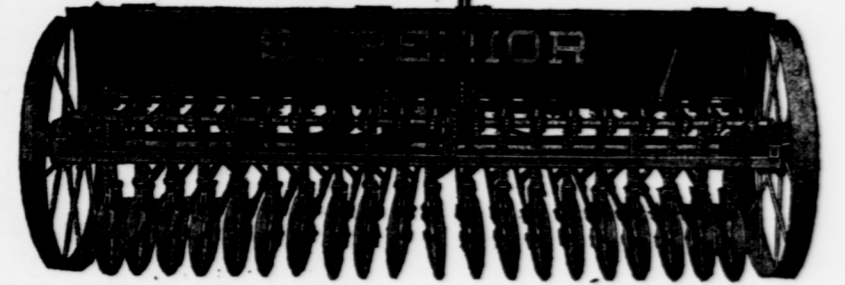

It is very fortunate that the fire occurred just when it did, for had it been twenty minutes later, the morning services would have been in progress, and confusion would doubtless have ensued. There was no semblance of a panic, the teachers and children who were in the church were given warning and left the church without confusion. The only accident that accompanied the blaze was to W. C. Pumphrey, who was endeavoring to extinguish the flames in the furnace room and was overcome by smoke and had to be carried from the church. Rev. J. Rockwell Smith and the entire congregation desire to extend their sincere thanks to the citizens of the community, and to all who assisted in extinguishing the fire.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson X.—First Quarter, For March 8, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke xii, 35-48. Memory Verses, 47, 48—Golden Text, Luke xii, 37—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The secret of deliverance from the snares of this present evil age is the attitude of expecting the return of the Lord Jesus, according to the teaching of the epistles, "waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ;" "serving the Living and True God and waiting for His Son from heaven;" "looking for that blessed hope, the glorious appearing of the great God, even our Saviour Jesus Christ" (1 Cor. i, 7; 1 Thess. i, 9, 10; Tit. ii, 13).

In the gospels, as in the Old Testament, the coming of Christ is generally, if not always, His coming in glory to set up His kingdom; His coming in vengeance upon His enemies and with redemption for Israel, as in Deut. xxxii, 39-43; Isa. xxxiv, 1; xxxv, 4; lxxii, 1; Matt. xxiv, 30; xxv, 31. His coming for His church, previous to His coming in glory to judge the nations was specially revealed to Paul, as we saw in our last lesson.

The reference to the return from the wedding in verse 36 makes us think of the order of events in Rev. xix, where the coming in glory with His saints follows the marriage of the Lamb; also in Matt. xxv, 1, in both the Syriac and Vulgate versions, the reading is that the ten virgins went forth to meet "the bridegroom and the bride," so that the virgins cannot represent the church nor can the "all nations" of Matt. xxv, 32, include the church. The church must be seen with Him as the Bridegroom and with Him when He shall come in His glory (Matt. xxv, 1; 31; Col. iii, 4). The coming of Christ as the Son of Man is His coming with His saints to begin His reign of righteousness and peace on earth (Matt. xxvi, 44; Dan. vii, 13, 14; Isa. xxxii, 1, 17).

Having considered the interpretation, we must not lose the application to our own hearts as set forth in such words in our lesson as loins girded, lights burning, watching, ready, doing good, 43, 45, 47, 48. The loins girded takes us back to Ex. xii, 11, and the night of the first passover and on to Eph. vi, 14; 1 Pet. i, 13; "loins gird about with truth;" "gird up the loins of your mind, be sober and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ."

Watching reminds us of the thrice repeated "watch" of Mark xiii, 33, 35, 37; the reproof in Gethsemane: "Couldst not thou watch one hour? Watch ye and pray lest ye enter into temptation" (Mark xiv, 37, 38); the praying and watching of Eph. vi, 18; Col. iv, 2; the "Watch ye; stand fast in the faith" of 1 Cor. xvi, 13; and the watching to see what He will say (Hab. ii, 1). The word "ready" reminds us that on His part "all things are now ready," but there is a fullness of "salvation ready to be revealed in the last time" (Luke xiv, 17; 1 Pet. i, 5).

Believers should always be ready to preach the gospel, ready to every good work, ready to be absent from the body or to be caught up to meet the Lord in the air (Rom. i, 15; Tit. iii, 1; Acts xxi, 13; Rev. xix, 7; 1 Thess. iv, 16-18). As to "doing" (verse 43), while there can be no doing on our part to obtain salvation (Rom. iv, 5; Eph. ii, 8, 9), we are saved in order to good works which God has prepared for us to walk in, works which are good and profitable unto men when they are God working in us both to will and to do of His good pleasure (Eph. ii, 10; Tit. iii, 8; Phil. ii, 13).

The coming of Christ will not be to His waiting ones as a thief, for we are not in darkness, but children of light and of the day (1 Thess. v, 4, 5). We are stewards of the manifold grace of God and of the mysteries of God, and the one thing required of a steward is faithfulness (1 Cor. iv, 1, 2; 1 Pet. iv, 10). All who handle the word of God must be careful to give meat in due season, not only milk for babes, but meat as people are able to bear it (1 Cor. iii, 1-3; Heb. v, 12-14; John xvi, 12).

We are stewards in reference to all with which our Lord has intrusted us, whether talents or wealth or the gospel, and we must give an account of our stewardship. Every one of us shall give account of himself to God (Rom. xiv, 12). This will be at the judgment seat of Christ, where only saved ones shall be to be tried for their service since they became believers. We need for all our service such words as these: "That God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ." Not as pleasing men, but God, who trieth our hearts" (1 Pet. iv, 11; 1 Thess. ii, 4; 1 Tim. ii, 15).

As Joseph shared the throne with Pharaoh, so we are to share the rule with Christ in His kingdom, but whether over few or many cities will depend upon our faithfulness as stewards now (Rev. iii, 21; v, 10; Luke xix, 17, 19). Joseph was ruler over all Egypt; Christ shall rule over all the world (Ps. lxxii, 11).

There are those called servants who are only outwardly servants, like the Pharisees. Such shall find their place with the unbelievers. However they may profess to have known Christ, He will say to them: "I never knew you. Depart from Me ye that work iniquity" (Matt. vii, 21-23).

That there will be different degrees of punishment seems evident from verses 47, 48.

SWINE WISDOM.

After a pig weighs seventy-five pounds he should gain over a pound of flesh a day.

A cement trough for the hog lot is one of the greatest little improvements about the farm.

It is always a good plan to feed pigs in a separate pen.

A dry pen and a dry bed are essential to thrift in pigs.

Statistics show that the manure from each pig is worth $12 a year. You see it will pay to save this manure.

Don't keep the breeding sows or the growing pigs on a plank floor all winter. Give them a yard in which to exercise on the sunny side of the pig house.

Hogs often have sore throat, quinsy, etc., from exposure to drafts and cold.

THE GOOD BIG HORSE.

Size and Weight Count In the Collar and on the Market.

That "a good big horse is better than a good little one" is an old saying which, though generally true, is open to many exceptions, especially among brood mares. Size and great weight are necessary in draft horses for heavy farm work and on the paved streets of cities. There is also from $50 to $100 difference in the market value of one weighing from 1,800 to 2,000 pounds and another from 1,500 to 1,600, yet it by no means follows that the dam must be of great size. There are in all the draft breeds big stallions able to give to their offspring from almost any mare much of their own great weight and height, provided always that the mare is of bodily conformation that will enable her safely to bear big colts. I have in mind a half breed 1,200 pound mare that year after year drops colts which as yearlings are bigger than herself, the sire being a seventeen hand, 2,400 pound Shire.

Still, as a rule, it is safest to breed from big mares when big colts are desired, for horse breeding is a freakish business, and it is by no means unusual to find mares that impress their own individuality on their colts regardless of what horse they are mated with, while others reproduce in their

The English Shire horse is best fitted to the requirements of the farmer who enters first to use both mares and colts on the land and eventually, when at the right age, to sell the latter as city drafters, says J. P. Ross in Farm and Fireside. If cleverness in trotting and smooth looks were leading features in what is required I should probably prefer the Percheron, but since a quick, firm, well balanced walk and instinctive knowledge of when to throw their weight into the collar and when to ease up, how to avoid impediments, a ready comprehension of what is required of them and a prompt carrying it out and an almost universal good temper are what is wanted for their class of work the Shire horse is, I believe, unequalled. The Shire stallion shown was a prize winner last fall.

offspring very closely the characteristics of the sire. These latter are the most valuable because they enable the breeder to maintain with more certainty the type he has set out to raise. Next to or even better than the study of any model, the fitness of a mare for breeding is to be seen in the quality of her progeny if she has been bred and if a view of them is obtainable.

All four of the leading heavy horse breeds have their specially good points.

Sleeping Quarters For Hogs.

There is no season of the year in which such careful attention should be given to cleanliness of the hog's sleeping quarters as during the winter. Oftentimes hogs are allowed to sleep all winter long in sheds or other sleeping quarters which are not cleaned out during the whole season. In order to keep hogs thoroughly healthy such sleeping quarters should be cleaned out at least once a week. The sheds and houses should be carefully disinfected after cleaning and supplied with fresh bedding.

Sheep in the South.

Sheep are close grazers and may be expected to thrive in pastures where other animals would scarcely find enough grazing for a maintenance ration. Bermuda grass, lespedeza, bur clover, reseeded grass and many other grazing crops may be produced in most sections of the southwest for sheep. Silage is relished by sheep in winter, and some grain should be fed with hay or silage.

Water For Hogs.

Hogs should always have clean, pure water to drink. They should also have good, clean quarters in which to sleep should have hard floors especially where they are fed; otherwise they eat filth and dirt which often is the cause of sickness.

To The Tobacco Growers of Garrard and adjoining Counties:

The Madison House has just closed another successful week selling nearly 350,000 lbs., with prices from 2c to 30c. Good tobacco being scarce, but when shown demands attention and excellent prices, while the low grades have never been higher than at present.

We want to ask those who have tobacco left that you get it to market just as soon as you can, while prices are good. While we expect a steady to strong market throughout, it is best to sell while you know the market is good. During the last week some of the best averages were as follows: W. C. Ross sold 1125 lbs. at average of $18.08, one basket bringing $30; Tudor & Moberly sold 3805 lbs., average of $15.99; Minter & Chamberlain sold 8890 lbs at average of $14.90, over two-thirds of this crop averaged $17. Tips frozen and damaged often keep the general average low, even for an excellent crop. Price Williams sold 895 lbs., averaged $16.50; Haden Bros. sold 1005 lbs., averaged $17.95; Ross & VanArsdale sold 2770 lbs for $443.50.

You will remember that our market is stronger now and has been throughout this year, than it has ever been with us, quality of tobacco considered. And we know that our buyers expect to keep this market right up to the best in the country till we close.

Market your tobacco at once, and continue to sell with the house that gets you the top notch prices—THE MADISON HOUSE. Thanking you, we are,

Very truly yours,

The Madison Tobacco Warehouse Company.

The Womans Club

(Edited By The Womans Club)

In answering the first question of the "Country Teacher", we will say if your pupils are young you should select pictures of animal and child life. pictures with an evident story. For older pupils most any of the pictures by good artists will do except those from medieval and early Renaissance paintings which are more appropriate to later studies. You will teach best those pictures which mean the most to you, therefore, I shall not suggest what pictures you ought to teach or how you ought to teach them.

As to how you should begin picture study I will say you have made a most excellent beginning by having the pictures you have named before your pupils. How shall you interpret them?
It has been said that what we get from a picture is determined largely by what we bring to it. I once heard a girl say in looking at the Angelus,
"I am so tired of seeing those old clod hoppers." But to Henry Drummond it spoke of "The three greatest things in life,—love, work and worship". Standing before it I hear the distant bell calling to prayers and often pray with the devout peasants. I feel the hush of evening and in the reverent figures the embodiment of the poor of this world, rich in faith, we feel that the All Father is bending in love above man, who stops for worship even amid his labors. Of course another way to study it is as to the manners and customs of France. Geography and history can be brought into most every picture. The life of the artist is also interesting.

In the picture "Lost" we see in the heart of a blinding snow storm the flock huddled together, benumbed with cold and fear. Near them are the two faithful dogs, one, with raised head is trying with what little strength is left him to rouse his master who is prostrate before the wayside cross, deaf to all earthly sounds. The picture tells a story without words. No human soul can interpret to another the depths of meaning in the words beginning, "Let not your heart be troubled." So it is with great work of art, you may ask questions that bring out its technical qualities, we may know the life of the artist and be told about it, but we shall not know the picture until it has spoken to each of us directly and brought to us a personal message too deep for words.

Schenck, like Landseer with his dogs,
makes his sheep almost human in sentiment. Their emotions he paints with a loving touch and true to nature.
Their natural timidity, their shelter seeking, their easily excited fear can all be brought out in the study of the picture.

Hoffman's Christ and the Doctor's is beautiful indeed and without a fault, and this artist is one of the very few who have given us the face of Christ which nearest corresponds to our ideal.
But beauty alone would not hold the attention of these men of wisdom, he has made them thoughtful of the words
he is so earnestly speaking to them.
Each face in the picture is a study by itself as they form a circle in which the figure of Christ stands clothed in purity and radiance. Here is an opportunity for the teacher to give a lesson that shall endure forever.

As we have said, no one can really interpret a picture for another, but a few well directed questions will set the children to looking and thinking and then we venture to add, questions will be asked, and it means something for a child to ask a sensible question even if nobody can be found to answer it.

The club had a delightful meeting last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Rockwell Smith gave a splendid paper on the "Contemporaries of Shakespeare".
Mrs. Jessie Sweeney gave a well prepared paper on "Noted Theatres", and Mrs. Sam Haselden read a description of some of our eastern theatres.
Mrs. Robert Elkin asked the questions on the lesson, which was the fourth act of Hamlet. All of the members showed thoughtful study and entered into the discussions with enthusiasm.

The children are showing a great interest in the story hour as manifested by their attention and attendance.
Miss Letty Mae McRoberts told the beautiful story of Narcissus to Miss Smith's room last Thursday and Mrs.
Kauffman will entertain the children of Miss Deans room this evening.

The members are again asked to bring magazines they have read to exchange for magazines they do not take, after which they will be passed to someone who does not take any.

England is Thankful.
It is from America that "Mary Had a Little Lamb" comes. So do most of the parodies of it, thank goodness.—

Announcement By The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company Of A Voluntary Reduction In The Rate Of Passenger Fares In Kentucky To Two
And One Half Cents Per Mile.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company announces its intention to reduce, in the immediate future, (not later than May 1, 1914) the passenger fares on its lines in the State of Kentucky to a maximum of 2½ cents per mile.

ACTION VOLUNTARY.

This action on the part of Kentucky's principal rail carrier is voluntary, and is taken in order to equalize the rates in its home State with the rates effective on or before the date mentioned in the States of Tennessee and Alabama.

This Company adheres to its belief that a 3 cent fare is not wholly remunerative and is not unfair to the public. Nevertheless, in deference to public opinion, particularly in other states, the management has decided to apply the lower rate in the hope that increased volume of traffic will save material losses, and pursuant to promises heretofore given the people of Kentucky it proposes to place Kentucky on the same basis as other states. Should the reduction prove disastrous, the company will appeal to the Railroad Commission for such readjustments as will be fair under all conditions.

EXTENT OF TRAFFIC AFFECTED.

The reduction to be made will apply to all of the lines operated by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company for its own account in the state of Kentucky, with the exception of a few branches and new lines on which the passenger business is not now remunerative or is conducted at a loss.

The reduction will be made effective on lines which now are producing over nine-tenths of the Company's total passenger earnings in the State of Kentucky; thus will affect nine-tenths of the Company's passenger business.

The reduction proposed in Kentucky will not only apply on intrastate travel between points within the State, but will also apply on interstate traffic over the same lines to and from points within the State and through the State; also, as similar reductions have been or are to be made on the principal lines of travel in the States of Tennessee and Alabama, the effect of interstate travel on the lines of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company will be to substantially establish a maximum fare of 2½ cents per mile from the Ohio River to the Gulf of Mexico.

REDUCTION IN REVENUE.

Some idea of the reductions to be made by the Company in its passenger fares may be had when it is understood that the reduction in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Alabama will represent an annual reduction in passenger revenues of about $900,000. In Kentucky alone, the annual reduction in revenues will amount to about $130,000 on interstate traffic, and about $250,000 on intrastate traffic, or to a total amount of about $380,000.

ILLUSTRATIVE CHANGES IN FARES.

The following list of existing fares and the proposed new fares, is illustrative of the reductions which will be made:

DATE EFFECTIVE OF CHANGES.

The proposed reductions will be made effective as soon as the tariffs can be compiled and issued giving the notice required by law. It is now estimated that the new intrastate tariffs will be made effective about April 1st or shortly thereafter (certainly not later than May 1, 1914), and that the interstate tariffs will be published immediately thereafter to be effective not later than July 1, 1914. The great majority of interstate fares are joint with other railroads and such cannot be compiled until the various state tariffs in the several states are compiled; the interstate tariffs require the co-operation of all connections, and as the fares in these are far more numerous, involving many thousands of figures which have to be calculated, there is naturally some delay. The legal notice required in connection with interstate fares is 20 days.

ROAD COMPANY,

Who Makes Up the Suicides.

According to Dr. Jacques Bertillon, the French statistician, suicide is commonest among liquor sellers, chimney sweeps, butchers, fruiterers and musicians. It is frequent among "came-lots," shop assistants, cutlers, hairdressers, servants, costers, lawyers, doctors and druggists. It is rare among the clergy, government officials and men leading an active, open-air life.

Bibles Always in Demand.

American presses turn out 15,000-000 Bibles a year, while the English presses turn out twice as many, and yet rarely is there an error discovered. Bibles are sold as low as five cents per copy, and millions are distributed free. It is printed in 400 different languages and dialects, about 30 per cent. being in English. Its circulation is not only the largest of any work but is constantly increasing.

Nervous?

Mrs. Walter Vincent,
of Pleasant Hill, N. C., writes: "For three summers, I suffered from nervousness, dreadful pains in my back and sides, and weak sinking spells. Three bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, relieved me entire-

Are you a christian? Do not answer this in the affirmative if you really claim to christianity lies in the fact that you are a church member and attend divine service at least once a week. "By their acts ye shall know them", and there was never better opportunity for those acts by which you may be recognized than right now. The winter has been a hard one, the latter part of it unusually severe, and in addition to this, both provisions and fuel are unusually high. You perhaps have not realized this, warmly clad, well fed and comfortably ensconced in front of a large comfortable fire, but there are others perhaps within call of you, who are by no means so comfortable. Have you investigated to see if any such conditions existed near you? Have you in the midst of your comfortable surroundings during this trying winter given one thought to the comfort of your fellowman? Have you contributed one penny toward relieving the needy, poor, sick and distressed? You say you have not heard of such conditions, "the poor we have with us always", and during such strenuous times as we have experienced during the last month, there is always misery and suffering to be relieved. Lancaster has no charity organization, no organized body to whom those in penury and want may apply for succor in their extremities. Therefore it is the christian duty of every citizen of the town to put themselves to some trouble to see that those within our gates are comfortably cared for, are beyond the pale of want. Have you done this, have you in any way contributed to the relief of your less fortunate neighbors during the times when assistance is most needed and most acceptable. Until you have done these things, you cannot consistently answer the above question in the affirmative.

The streets and sidewalks were in splendid condition for skating last week and the younger generation took advantage of the condition and enjoyed it to the uttermost. It is indeed a cold day when the boy is deprived of his fun.

New Assistant Postmaster At Hyattsville.
Mr. and Mrs. James Sanders at Hyattsville are rejoicing over the arrival of a son and heir, their first. The youngster arrived Monday and weighed 8 1/2 pounds. Both Mrs. Sanders and the baby are doing nicely.

Home Again.
Louis Faulkner, Manager of the Lancaster Dry Cleaning Co., and a very much respected colored man, is at home again after undergoing treatment for his eyes in the Good Samaritan hospital at Lexington. He is very much improved.

Appreciated Call.
Our good friend, Mr. W. T. Watson paid us a pleasant call Tuesday morning and a very agreeable one it was indeed. Mr. Watson has been quite sick since last fall and this was his first visit to town since last October. His many friends will be glad to know that he has recovered sufficiently to be out again.

Many Lancaster Friends Extend Sympathy.
Many friends in Lancaster will sympathize with Mr. J. G. Carlton, the popular "blackman", or superintendent for the International Harvesting Machine Co. in this district, upon the death of his wife, which occurred in Stanford last week.

Chester Fitch Appointed To Good Position.
Chester Fitch, who formerly resided in Lancaster, but who now lives in Nicholasville, upon the recommendation of Senator James, has been appointed to a position in the Census Bureau. Chester will be what is known as a "field man". His Lancaster friends are glad to hear of his good luck.

Walker-Ray.
Miss Annie Walker and Homer B. Ray were married at the home of Rev. Beagle, that gentleman officiating, on last Saturday afternoon. The bride is 22 years of age and is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Walker and is a very attractive young lady. The groom is 24, the son of Mrs. B. Ray, and is the accommodating and efficient substitute rural mail carrier on the routes out of Lancaster.

The Record joins heartily with their many friends in congratulations to the young people.

R. P. Ison Sells Farm.
Mr. R. P. Ison has sold his farm of 46 acres to W. O. Wearren for $70, per acre. The farm is situated on the Buckeye pike a few miles from Lancaster. Mr. Ison, we are sorry to learn will move to Wilmore.

Don't miss the great picture "In the midst of the Jungle", at Opera House, Monday March 16.

And May We Never See Another Such.
February has gone and with its waning there arose a sigh of relief from everybody, and the wish was freely voiced that we might never see another February so utterly bad as the recently departed. It fully demonstrated the veracity of the ground hog as a weather prophet, for beginning with the second day of the month, we scarcely saw a good day during the entire month, and the majority of them were exceedingly bad.

A Sad Death.
Maurice, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Hudson of Danville, died in Louisville last Thursday and was buried in Danville Saturday. His health began to fail about a year ago and his fond parents placed him in a sanatorium in Louisville hoping that the ravages of the dread disease might be stayed. All that loving hands and medical skill could do was done but all of no avail.

Bryan Dyehouse Dies As The Result Of Knife Wounds At The Hands Of Richard Spivey A Month Ago.
Bryan Dyehouse died at the home of Mr. Thomas Doolin on the Mt. Hebron pike on last Sunday night. Dyehouse death was due to wounds inflicted on him by Richard Spivey in a difficulty between the two men on the night of Feb. 1st. Both men had been to Bryantsville and had secured whisky and both are said to have been more or less under its influence when the difficulty occurred. Dyehouse was taken to the home of Mr. Doolin, the trouble having taken place immediately in front of his place, where he lingered exactly one month from the time his injury was received. The deceased was a mere boy, only eighteen years of age, and was unmarried. Spivey is about twenty three years of age and has a wife and two children. He is in jail and the present grand jury will doubtless give its attention to his case.

Danville Visited By Disasterous Fire Property Loss Estimated At One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

At midnight last Sunday night fire was discovered in the elevator shaft of the Gilcher House in Danville, and almost immediately following the discovery, the roof of the structure was a mass of flames. The clerks on duty hastily notified the guests in the house, and all succeeded in escaping to safety, though many of them had time only to don scant wearing apparel. Mrs. Della Bogle was rescued from one of the burning rooms by Coach O'Brien, but lost her jewels, clothing and other valuables. Such headway had the fire gathered before its discovery, that it was impossible to subdue the flames and the entire building was consumed, it taking heroic work upon the part of fire department to save Fox's livery stable and other adjacent property.

Mrs. Emmaline Gilcher owned the burned hotel building, and her loss is placed at $45,000 with only $20,000 insurance; T. O. Miller, clothing and gents furnishing goods, loss $18,000 insurance $10,000; Cook & Cable, Restaurant and confectionary, loss $6,000, insurance $3,000; M. Joseph & Co, clothing etc, loss $9,000, insurance $3,500; Geary's meat store, loss covered by insurance; Richardson's barber shop, loss $1,000, insurance $400, and damage to Fox livery stable to the extent of about $400 fully covered by insurance. Moore Bros. who have but recently taken charge of the establishment, taking over the lease of the Messrs. Lovell, have not figured up their loss as yet, but it will be heavy.

It was thought at one time because of the high wind, that the local department would not be able to control the flames, and that the entire business part of the city was in danger, and help was asked of Lexington, but after an engine was loaded on a special train it was found it would not be necessary and the order was cancelled.

While nothing has as yet been done toward the rebuilding of the burned district, the progressive citizens and business men of Danville are already getting together and attempting to formulate a plan for the erection of a new and commodious "Gilcher House" on the site of the old one. The fire places Danville practically without hotel accommodations, a state of case which we are satisfied our good neighbors will not allow to exist for any length of time, and it is safe to say that in the very near future there will be erected in Danville a hotel worthy of the town, and that several handsome store rooms will also replace the ones razed by the fire.

Probably Another New Residence For Lancaster.

Logan Wood's Appointment Confirmed.
The appointment of Logan Wood, whose name was sent to the Senate some time since to be postmaster at Danville, was confirmed on last Monday. Mr. Wood will doubtless take his office within the next thirty days, succeeding Mr. E. B. Linney, who has recently rounded out his sixteenth year in that office.

Two Members Of City Council Ill.
Mr. W. M. Zanone, a member of the city council, is confined to his room with rheumatism. Mr. W. O. Goodloe, also a member of the council, is suffering with a severe cold and is confined to his room. Because of the illness of these gentlemen, there was not a quorum present at the regular monthly meeting of the council on last Monday night.

Ruble.
Mr. Charles Ruble died at his home at Wilmore in Jessamine county on last Saturday and his remains were interred in the cemetery at Mt. Olivet in this county on the following Sunday. He is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was a Miss Dickerson of this county, and by three daughters and four sons. The deceased was a member of the large and influential family of Rubles of the Buena Vista section, being a brother of Messrs Jerome and George Ruble. Until a few years ago he resided in that vicinity, but removed to Wilmore. He was an upright, honorable gentleman and a good citizen, and his loss will be a material one in this county, as well as in his home.

Young Democrats Are Hosts At A Big Banquet At Capitol Hotel In Frankfort Last Friday.

The Young Mens Democratic Club of Kentucky were hosts at a splendid banquet at the Capitol hotel in Frankfort on last Friday night. Around the festal board was gathered 300 representative democrats from all over the state, and among the number was Congressman Stanley, Governor McCreary, Ex. Governor Beckham and Hon. Dave Smith, candidates for United States Senator.

A genuine old fashioned Democratic love feast was held, and there was a lot of good speech making interspersed with the viands, both of which came in for equal enjoyment. After the banquet officers and committees for the organization were selected for the ensuing year.

Card Of Thanks.
To the many kind friends and neighbors who rendered me so many kindnesses during the illness and after the death of my dear mother, and for the many expressions of loving sympathy, I wish to express my heartfelt thanks, and to assure them that they were sincerely appreciated.

Circuit Court.
The March term of the Garrard Circuit Court convened on last Monday with Judge Chas. A. Hardin presiding, and the Judge was greeted with that usual cordiality which is accorded him by his host of friends and admirers in Garrard county, and his unusually able and strenuous instructions to the grand jury but served to enhance that good opinion in the minds of the law abiding citizens of the county. The charge was an unusually strong one, dwelling upon the various crimes, and placing particular stress upon the fact that the grand jury should give due heed to the public sentiment, the sentiment of the law abiding citizens of the county, which is ever for the upholding of the law and the punishing of criminals; particularly should this sentiment be regarded in the matter of the graver crimes, such as homicide. He said that there was a tendency in the minds of a great many people to severely condemn the lesser evils, such as crap shooting, the illicit sale of liquor, chicken stealing etc., while the graver offenses, such as homicide, perjury etc, were oftentimes condoned. He said that the finished criminal usually ascended the ladder of crime gradually, beginning with the lesser crime, which if allowed to go unpunished, would serve to embolden him, and his next offense would be of a graver nature, until the ultimate outcome would be the taking of human life. Where as, if the initial crime were promptly and severely punished, it might serve to end the criminal career of the prisoner and have a tendency to make a useful citizen of him in future. He urged the body of whom these remarks were addressed to ferret out the smaller offenses and thereby perhaps save some future body from having to look into crimes of a more serious nature.

The Judge placed stress upon the rapidly growing evil of cigarette smoking among the youth of the country; he quoted instances and statistics in support of his remarks, which served to show that the records of many of the minor penal institutions, such as the schools of reform and houses of correction, showed that a great majority of the young criminals who were sent to them were confirmed cigarette smokers, and that in their opinion the smoking of these "coffin nails" were their initial steps in crime.

Judge Hardin also gave rigid instruction as to the sale of cocaine, morphine, opium, and such drugs as were calculated to lower the moral standard of those who were addicted to their use, and pointed to the fact that the sale of these drugs was a rapidly growing evil, and urged that the grand jury inquire diligently in to whether or not they were being sold illicitly in Garrard county.

Another matter that came in for a rigid instruction from His Honor was the giving away of the secrets of the grand jury chamber; the seeking of the shifting of responsibility from the shoulders of one to the other, this practice he condemned as the basest of traitorism, pointing to the penalty for such offense, and urging that what transpired in the grand jury room might be kept inviolate in the breasts of the members of that body.

The Instructions of Judge Hardin impressed forcibly upon the minds of his hearers the fact that he was making a deep study of criminology, a one important feature of the work with which he has to do, and that he was studying crime with a view of lessening as well as punishing it, and that his studies included the lesser as well as the graver crimes, resulting in the conclusion that crime was progressive in its character, and that by seeking to check it in its incipency, its minor stages, that a great many of the greater crimes could be avoided.

Judge Emmett Puryear was on hand promptly, ready to look after the interests of the Commonwealth, as was Green Clay Walker, the recently elected County Attorney, who in his dealings with the offenders before this, his initial court, showed an aptitude that would have done credit to one who had seen years of experience in the prosecution of criminals. Old reliable "Keg" Mason was smiling behind the clerk's desk, with Miss Sue Shelby Mason as his efficient deputy. Sheriff Curt A. Robinson introduced Messrs. Tommie Ballard, Davis Sutton and Miller Davis as his deputies, while Uncle David Ross was "at home" to his many friends in his old position as jailer.

The Juries empaneled are as follows:-

W. M. McKechnie, W. R. Tudor, Milton Dean, S. B. Estes, R. C. Bozin, Walton Moss, H. B. Cox, John A. Broadus, W. R. Kelly, J. P. Ham, E. E. Stridge, A. B. Brown, Foreman.

Petit Jury.
Wm. Hurt, James Dalton, H. K. Herndon, John Prewitt, W. J. Gosney, John Davis, J. H. Smith, N. K. Bogle, J. T. Pope, B. Ramsey, T. L. Slavin, Sim Clark, Dock Simpson, Bertram Spratt, S. D. Cochran, J. A. Dudderar, I. F. Naylor, J. K. Sutton, Alex West, James Clark, Henry Wallace, Cronley Broadus, Henly Bastin, W. W. West.

There is but one murder case on the docket, that of Barker for the killing of Eason in the Mt. Hebron neighborhood, and that is set for this week. There are 100 old equity cases, 10 equity appearances, 50 old common law cases and 23 common law appearances.

Fox.

Mrs. Sallie Rout Fox died at her home near Marksbury at 7 o'clock last Friday evening, February 27th, and her death removes one of Garrard county's most lovable characters and highly respected women. Born in Garrard on the 22nd day of February 1857, she has spent her days near the spot upon which she was born. She was descended from two of the best old families in the northwestern part of the county, her father the late Robert L. Rout, was one of the leading farmers of that section of the county, while her mother, Zerelda West Rout, was a sister of the late John K. West, who was one of the leading educators of the county in his day, and served as superintendent of schools in the county during his life time.

Mrs. Fox has been under the hand of affliction for the last 18 months, but she bore her burden with that forbearance and fortitude which was one of the leading characteristics of her life, not even those immediately around her, or her most intimate friends knowing of her bodily anguish. Early in life Mrs. Fox united with the Methodist church, and her membership in that church was maintained throughout her life, though she believed in and practised fellowship with christians of all denominations. Funeral services were conducted at the cemetery on last Sunday, Rev. Mahan of the "Fork" and Rev. Garrison of the Christian church of Danville officiating, after which her remains were placed at rest in the Danville cemetery.

A fitting tribute of the love and esteem in which she was held was the fact that notwithstanding the extreme inclemency of the weather, a great concourse of her friends and relatives, those who new and loved her, followed the remains to their last resting place. Mrs. Fox is survived by one son, Robert Rout Fox, to whom no mother was ever more devoted, both mother and companion to her, he had always remained under the parental roof, he had grown to young manhood under her loving guidance and care and a source of unending joy and consolation to her.

Following in the Master's footsteps, and accepting literally His words "suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not", she was extremely fond of children, and never a tiny urchin toddled within her vision but that it came for a share of her notice and solicitude. Charitable to a fault, yet not a believer in blazoning her good deeds to the world, she performed many noble acts of charity without any show or ostentation, the greatest of her many good deeds probably never becoming known to the world.

Mrs. Fox had one sister, Mrs. Alice Rout Scott and one brother, Millard F. Rout, both of whom, together with her parents, have preceded her to the Great Beyond. The last of her family, she lived with and for her son, leading a busy, thoughtful and useful life, doing unselfishly such things as came to her hand to make this life a little more pleasant, this world a little brighter for those around her, now that her work is ended and she has gone to her eternal rest, where there shall be no more suffering, she will surely receive at His hand a full and just measure of reward for her life of self sacrifice.

The sincere sympathy of a host of friends, which is joined in by the Record, goes out to the grief stricken and sorrowing son, and to the relatives who so deeply mourn her loss.

From An Interested Teacher.

Dear Mr. Elkin;
I am not enclosing a dollar because I am never in debt to the Record, being too much afraid of missing an issue, every one of which I think is worth one dollar. I enjoy especially the Womens Column and am always disappointed if you do not have one. The one last week on pictures made a deep impression on me. I agree with the writer of that article when she says that teachers should place pictures before their pupils and I think the Womens Club would be doing a great work if they would write several articles on that subject. I would like to know just what pictures are best adapted to the school room. I also hear of pictures being interpreted to children. Now I have the Angelus, by Millet, Lost, by Schenck and Christ and Doctors, by Hoffman. How shall I begin picture study and how do you interpret the pictures I have named? Again thanking you for your most excellent paper I will sign myself

Country Teacher.

We have turned the above letter over to the Womens Club reporter to answer. We appreciate all the kind words said and written to us and hope to prove not only entertaining but helpful to our readers.
See Woman's Column, third page, for answer to above.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford C. Lyne announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to William Bradley Johnston. Mr. Johnston was formerly a Kentucky State University student, but is now holding a position with the Bell-Jellico Mining Company. He was formerly of Lancaster. The marriage will be celebrated in June.

Mr. Henry Moore was called to Welchburg, Jackson county Ky. by the death of his mother, Mrs. Jane Moore, aged 66 years, she having died of paralysis. The deceased is survived by four daughters and five sons, one being Mr. Henry Moore. She also leaves five brothers, two in Oregon, one in Ark., and two in Ky, one being Mr. C. D. Powell of this city. This is the second death in a large family who have all reached mature years. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Moore in the loss of his good mother.

The Misses Jane and Mary Doty, and Martha and Helen Gill, four charming visiting girls from Lancaster, Ky., who were introduced to Tulsa society last week, in Mrs. W. I. Williams' "at home" stood as honorees at a large event again on Friday, when Mrs. John Bradford Jennings was hostess at a reception of one hundred guests.

The coloring of the decorations and appointments of the affair was in keeping with the season of Washington's birthday, and was expressed in red and white carnations, filling French baskets in the living room and red Richmond roses in the dining room. The green of southern smilax and palms formed a background for the bright, warm, red of the flowers used.

In the receiving group which was stationed in the living room to greet the guests, stood Mrs. Jennings, Miss Doty, Miss Helen Gill, Mrs. C. S. Bruce, Mrs. Williams, Miss Mary Doty and Miss Gill, with Mrs. J. Wesley West and Mrs. Harry D. Murdoch making the presentation of the callers as they arrived. Other assistants to Mrs. Jennings in extending the hospitality of her home were Mesdames W. C. Black, Harry Campbell, W. M. Fleetwood, Charles Hevenor and W. A. Sharp.

A course of ices and cakes were served from the dining table which held a centerpiece of Richmond roses and smilax and candelabra shaded in red. The ices showed a tiny hatchet in red and the mints bore a flag in red, white and blue. Tiny silk flags were the favors. The Misses Mary Clay Williams and Evelyn Mainwaring passed the refreshment plates. From a table in the reception hall, the Misses Marjorie Black, Gwendolyn Collier and Mary Burton served glasses of punch.

Mrs. Jennings' "at home" stands as one of the largest and prettiest of the affairs of the pre-Lenten season. (Tulsa (Okla.) Daily World.

Mexican Situation Growing In Gravity, And The Outcome No Man Can Predict.

The Mexican situation seems to grow worse with time, and it is impossible for anything like a definite prediction to be made as to the ultimate outcome.

Almost every day seems to bring a new complication. The death of William S. Benton, a subject of Great Britain, at Juarez at the hands of the Mexicans, was thought to be a grave matter, but the statement of Sir Edward Grey, British Secretary, that England would await the action of the United States in the matter, simplifies this phase of the question, at least for the time being. The United States is of course absolved from any responsibility as to the death of Benton. To add complexity to the situation, United States citizens have been slain. Negotiations are pending between this country and Mexico over both of these questions, and everything hinges upon the result of these negotiations. President Wilson has, very wisely, signified his intention of not using undue haste in his dealings with the situation, and will not be coerced into any precipitate action. He fully realizes the gravity of the situation, and is fully cognizant of the cost, both monetary and in human life, of a war with Mexico, and fully realizing that this is a vast and powerful country, states that we can better afford to wait than to take precipitate action in such a grave matter.

It is very much to be hoped that the situation will clear without drastic measures upon the part of this country and we fully believe that under the wise influence and guiding hand of Woodrow Wilson that every wrong to American citizens and their property will be righted without the necessity of stronger intervention than the diplomatic exchanges which are now in progress.

HUGE INVITATION

A Conference of Farmers and Business Men Early This Spring

A MEETING FOR THE SOUTH

A Great Opportunity For a Short-cut Method of Seeing What is Best in Rural Co-operation in the United States—A Real Getting Together.

Almost everyone who has read the magazines and newspapers in the last or so has wished to travel to many points and learn first-hand what the leaders in co-operation are doing. Of course, this has been an impossibility and even if one could make it possible, there would be no time left for constructive work at home. To a certain extent the "County Life Conference" in Louisville, April 7, 8, 9, 10, will make this a possibility without extensive traveling.

Leaders in co-operative movements from many parts of the South and from innumerable Northern States, have been engaged to tell just what they have accomplished and how it was accomplished. They are to tell their "ups" as well as their "downs," in the cause of co-operation. They will also be on hand to show exactly how the work which has been a success at home can be transplanted to other neighborhoods. They will bring with them not only the story, but also all of the material that is used in their perfected organization to-day that it may run smoothly.

Enough enthusiasm is sure to be developed to make organizations among those present a certainty. This will be done by these men in the most detailed way possible. The leaders who come to the Conference should be able to take the good word home in such shape that it can be redeveloped and take root.

If you should wish to better your own condition, or the condition of your state, or the condition of the whole South, it would be well worth your time and money to come to Louisville at this time.

Even if you are not at all anxious to hear any one of the speakers or see any of the demonstrations, still it would be a delight to be in a crowd of people who are enthusiastic enough and devoted enough to come and rub elbows with other leaders. After all, there is nothing much better in life than the glow which comes to all of us when we come in contact with "live wires" from scattered places over the whole country.

If you are a leader or feel that you might be a leader or hope to be a leader, make your plans at once and get the dust off your grip sack that you may be ready to be with the splendid bunch that will talk things over so far the South may grow in prosperity, in farm life, in home life and in neighborhoods.

FARMERS' CLUBS

Prof. A. D. Wilson.

The press of the country for the past several years has been full of the wonderful work done by the Boys' and Girls' Corn and Tomato Clubs. Naturally, it would seem time for us to have something in the press concerning clubs for farmers and their wives.

Some work in successful farmers' clubs has been done in the State of Minnesota and Prof. A. D. Wilson, of the Extension Department of State University is the man who has developed it. His wide experience in this field has appealed so strongly to those in charge of the program for the Farmers' and Business Men's Conference, that arrangements were made for him to come to the meeting at Louisville, April 7-10, to develop the same enthusiasm that has attended the work in his home state. He is a speaker of ability, and it is hoped that he may entice our farmers to the point of organizing some clubs in Kentucky and in the South for this year.

The Conference in Louisville, April 7-9-10, is of such importance that extremely low railroad rates have been made. You can make the trip from your home town to Louisville at this time for one fare plus 25 cents.

GREAT HALL IN WHICH CONFERENCE FOR FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN WILL BE HELD

It is indeed very fortunate that the great Armory in Louisville happens to have a number of rooms which can be used for small sectional meetings during the Conference of Farmers and Business Men, and that it is quite close to the Auditoriums of the Seelbach and Henry Watterson Hotels. There will be no lack of space in the Armory itself or in its large balconies, for all the demonstration work that will be used. In fact, so many huge events have been handled in the Armory that there is no danger of crowding at any point. It is fortunate that our paper has been able to secure a first-class picture of the Armory during the great Automobile Show, which was held in Louisville from February 11-14. We believe this picture will give our readers a very much better idea of the greatness of the Conference than anything that we could possibly put into a news story. If our readers are interested in any of the wonderful discussions that will take place during the Conference April 7, 8, 9, 10, or wish to know anything about co-operative dairying, co-operative poultry or fruit-marketing, or the handling of farm produce through the parcel post, it would be a splendid investment of time and money to make the trip to Louisville and talk the matter over with experts. The Conference in Louisville April 7, 8, 9, 10, is of such importance that extremely low railroad rates have been made. You can make the trip from your home town to Louisville at this time for one fare plus 25 cents.

MAGGIE BARRETT WEAVING "KIVER" FOR THE WHITE HOUSE BRIDE'S BED

In looking over the program for the Woman's Department in the Country Life Conference, Louisville, April 7-10 next, it is plain to be seen that many interesting talks and demonstrations are to be expected. The old fireside household industries will be under the direction of Mrs. Ernberg, of Berea College, Berea, Ky. In the mountain homes these old industries have not been completely lost. Rag carpets, quilting, weaving and basket-making are still part of the school work. Maggie Barrett, who lives on Bald Knob and walks four miles over a rough country road to and from Berea, wove "the kiver" for the White House bride's bed last autumn. All good housekeepers the Southland over should come to this great meeting and give what they have to give and receive what they feel they need. President Joe Cook, of the State Normal College, at Hattiesburg, Miss., will have the general direction of the demonstration work in the Household Equipment Department in the enormous Armory. Household managements, meals and their serving, house cleaning and the beautifying of the home will be developed under the leadership of Miss Mary E. Frayser, Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C. All of the demonstrations in cooking will be done by the teachers of Domestic Science in the State University and the State Normal Schools of Kentucky.

Would a Delegation Pay?

Each year the papers are full of overflowing with reports of meetings of merchants, bankers, manufacturers, railroad officials, labor unions and many fraternal orders. Some of these are enormous affairs, bringing thousands together that are interested in the same thing. Would it not be a splendid idea if Kentucky to-day, should turn out her thousands of farmers and their friends for the meeting at Louisville.

Certainly there never was a time riper for a careful and thorough discussion of the needs of the country than the present. It will be a time when the farmers can "get together" to discuss their own problems. Many of the speakers will be men who come from between the plow handles and have worked their problems out in an everyday way, a way which any farmer could probably utilize.

This meeting will be in reality a liberal education. Not an education gleaned from books by the midnight oil, but an education that comes from contact with men who have thought big things and then lived to see those same big things become a part of the life about them.

If you can not come yourself, make it your business to see that your county sends at least a strong delegation to Louisville, April 7-9-10, to the Conference of Farmers and Business Men.

The railroad people of the South have been quick to see the tremendous advantage of quickening interest in rural life through the Conference of Farmers and Business Men in Louisville, April 7-9-10, and have allowed a very low rate, one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip.

Hotel rates are never increased on account of convention crowds in Louisville. Besides the numerous hotels, there are many restaurants and innumerable splendid boarding houses.

A SOUTHERN LEADER

Hon. T. F. Peck, of Tennessee.

At this Conference in Louisville most of the Commissioners of Agriculture from the Southern States will be present, either to speak or to take part in the general discussions that are sure to follow the papers that are given. Among the earliest to signify his intention of being on hand early and staying late is the progressive Commissioner of Tennessee, the Hon. T. F. Peck.

FRUIT IN THE SOUTH

All over the South the papers are having much to say about the awakening of the people to the value of fruit that has fine flavor. Northwest fruit has been beautiful to look at on the fruit stands in the big cities, but a very small proportion of it has anything in the shape of that touched by the Southern sun. Apples from Georgia lately took a number of first and second prizes in the Great New York exhibit in New York State, and Kentucky apples shipped to the Northwest also took a great many prizes.

As this is true it is especially fitting and opportune that the Conference at Louisville, April 7-9-10, is to have Mr. W. M. McDonald, manager of the Excelsior Fruit Growers Association of Minnesota, to give a talk and make some demonstrations. Mr. McDonald was originally an expert bookkeeper in Minneapolis, but finding that his health was breaking under close office work, he decided to go to the country. He at once took hold of the Excelsior Fruit Growers' Association and in five years pushed the business from $5,000 annually to $200,000. This man will organize a typical fruit growers' association among the horticulturists at the meeting, and show them methods of shipping, packing, advertising and the locating of markets.

When asked about the prices which prevailed when he took hold of the organization, and those prevailing last year, he said, "When the Association was launched 75 cents per case of 24 pint baskets of red raspberries prevailed. Last year our red raspberries of the same size averaged $2.05. Of course, to get such prices one must have a perfect pack and first-class fruit. Every fruit grower in our Association has his number and the dealer orders through the number and upon the reputation of the Association for fair dealing."

THE PROGRAM

During the Conference of Farmers and Business Men at Louisville, April 7-9-10, there will be discussions and demonstrations of the following:

Secretary of the Business Men's Conference, Harry Hodgson, Athens, Ga.

Secretary of the Conference of Country Preachers, W. H. Mills, Clemson College, S. C.

For information, programs, etc., address A. P. Bourland, Executive Secretary, 222 Southern Building, Washington, D. C.

VISUAL LESSONS

Convincing and Unique Demonstrations Will Be Feature of Meeting

TWO ACRES OF FLOOR SPACE

Many Activities of Rural Co-operative Work Will Be Shown in Actual Operation—Parcel Postoffice Will Be Part of Exhibit at Louisville.

A talk or a lecture may be thoroughly convincing and delightful, but a demonstration must carry absolute conviction. The demonstrations that will be used in Louisville in the huge Armory, April 7, 8, 9, 10, are sure to attract the attention of the farmers, their friends and neighbors who come to the Conference. A short list of some of these various demonstrations will probably give some idea of the wide scope of this meeting. Men who understand the business will develop real organizations for the handling (1) Poultry and Eggs; (2) Vegetables and Small Fruits; (3) Farm Products; (4) Dairy Products; (5) Live Stock; (6) Purchase of Farm Requirements; and (7) Co-operative Credit. In these organizations that will be developed, an effort will be made to show exactly how the testing, grading, standardizing and packing of all the various products is done. Directors for shipping, selling, the making of returns and the finding of markets will be made features of these demonstrations.

Besides these co-operative organizations that have just been mentioned the United States Postoffice Department has arranged for space in which to equip a complete parcel post department. Instead of its being merely a dummy affair with an exhibit, parcels will be handled and sent out as they are in any great postoffice. Several of the large retail stores of Louisville will send their parcel post packages direct to this office instead of the main post-office, so that there will be continuous work in handling the mail during the whole time the Armory is open for exhibition purposes. In addition to the handling of packages from the city to the country, experts will be present to show anyone how to pack eggs, but very few people know very much about the parcel post as yet, and this innovation should prove a tremendous advantage to those visiting the Conference.

THE BANKER-FARMER

B. F. Harris, of Illinois.

It seems rather odd to find on our desk a new magazine with the above heading. It has always seemed to us as if the bankers and the farmers did not know each other as well as they should. In running over this splendid magazine, which is a monthly review of the State Bankers' Associations of thirty-seven states, their agricultural committees and the individual banker in agricultural matters, it seems to be most timely. It claims among its items of interest "public welfare, in connection with an effort to obtain and hold successful and permanent agriculture through better farming, marketing, education, roads, rural life and credits."

All the wide-awake folks who meet at the Conference for Farmers and Business Men in Louisville to discuss rural matters during the four days, April 7, 8, 9, 10, will have a chance to hear the editor of "The Banker-Farmer," Mr. B. F. Harris, of Champaign, Ill. He is not only the editor of this strong, clean publication; but he is, also, the very successful vice president of the First National Bank of Champaign and chairman of the Agricultural Commission, which was developed under the auspices of the American Bankers' Association.

Railroad Rates.

The railroad people of the South have been quick to see the tremendous advantage of quickening interest in rural life through the Conference of Farmers and Business Men in Louisville, April 7-9-10, and have allowed a very low rate, one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip.

NEW REVOLUTION

Catawba Valley, N. C. Had a Peaceful But Powerful Awakening

STARTED WITH $1,500 NOTE

Buckwheat Valley, Wisconsin, Becomes Prosperous Through Co-operation—What the Conference To Be Held in Louisville Really Is For.

A program built with experts from the various departments of the State and National Government, is naturally quite an easy matter. To go out over the country and find people who are really doing things in their own communities, is quite another proposition. This has been the task which the men who are handling the Conference for Farmers and Business Men have set for themselves this year.

Walter J. Shuford, North Carolina.

One of the most interesting men of this type in the whole United States is Walter J. Shuford, of Hickory, N. C. He is one of those men who evidently dreams wonderful dreams, then rolls up his sleeves and works hard to make those same dreams come true. Way down in North Carolina Mr. Shuford saw how his friends and neighbors were limping through life on a worn-out soil that would not seemingly supply their wants. At last he found the man he needed in Field Agent Conover, and they began work to interest a group of men in a dairy proposition. From a start that was made with a $1,500 joint promissory note with which to finance the creamery, it has grown year after year until last October, the total sales amounted to over $10,000. And it seems from the way in which things are growing that their co-operative organization will soon be handling a business that will total about $500,000 a year.

One might write volumes about what has happened down in Catawba Valley in that Tarheel country, but it is enough to say that this man has changed the attitude and viewpoint of a county through his own enthusiasm. He will be in Louisville during the Conference, April 7-9-10, to tell his own story and to demonstrate the methods that he used to organize and develop this tremendous business.

FAT OF THE LAND

Seven years ago Buck Wheat Valley in Wisconsin was almost bankrupt. Two-thirds of her property was held in mortgages and the young people were drifting toward the city. Wheat, which in the early days had yielded 50 bushels to the acre, had dwindled to 15, and it was because of this that the people had to substitute buck wheat, hence the name of the Valley.

Seven years ago Mr. William Head and Mr. Grover began organizing the people about the LaValle for developing the creamery work and standardizing the potato crop. To-day there is hardly a mortgage in this neighborhood, the homes are painted, new barns are being built, silos stand as sentinels all over the country. Mr. Head and Mr. Grover will be in Louisville April 7-9-10, to tell how they lifted Buck Wheat Valley out of bankruptcy into plenty.

A GETTING TOGETHER

The seventeenth annual Conference of Farmers and Business Men which is to meet in Louisville, April 7-9-10, is a rather unique organization. It has absolutely no constitution or by-laws, no dues or conditions of membership. It is a loosely put together organization, which can easily shift its viewpoint or change its policy with the growth and temper of the people making up the membership for that particular year. It began its existence under the Southern Educational Board, which pays all the bills, and its President for sixteen years was that remarkable merchant of New York City, Mr. R. C. Ogden. He was one of those unusual men who can see not only the future in his own business, but also the future in other lines of activity. It has been the policy of this movement not to dictate what any meeting should do, but merely to help the groups that "get together" to find themselves and solve their own problems.

VALUE OF RHEUMA FROM THE COURT

Judge Barhorst Was Relieved Of Rheumatism After Doctors Failed.

If you have tried many other remedies and doctors' treatments for Rheumatism and found they failed, do not be skeptical about trying RHEUMA. Read the testimony of Judge John Barhorst of Fort Loramie, O.

"After treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very bad case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previously, I was a cripple, walking with crutches."

Such testimony should be convincing. 50 cents of R. E. McRoberts guaranteed.

LANCASTER PROOF

Should Convince Every Lancaster Reader.

The frank statement of a neighbor, telling the merits of a remedy, bids you pause and believe. The same endorsement by some stranger far away commands no belief at all. Here's a Lancaster case, a Lancaster citizen testifies. Read and be convinced.

Mrs. C. T. Brummett, Crab Orchard St., Lancaster, Ky., says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had pains through my back and kidneys. At times I was nervous. Dean's Kidney Pills made me feel much better and stronger in every way."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you—don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Dean's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Brummett had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Less DYSPEPSIA NOW

-HERE'S THE REASON.

The fact that there is less dyspepsia and indigestion in this community than there used to be is largely, we believe, due to the extensive use of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, hundreds of packages of which we have sold. No wonder we have faith in them. No wonder we are willing to offer them to you for trial entirely at our risk.

Among other things, they contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science. They soothe the inflamed stomach, allay pain, check heartburn and distress, help to digest the food, and tend to quickly restore the stomach to its natural, comfortable, healthy state.

There is no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. Your word is enough for us. If Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets don't restore your stomach to health and make your digestion easy and comfortable, we want you to come back for your money. They are sold only at the 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

Cat and Dog Convicts.

Beyond the lovely vale of Kashmir, across the Indus, lies a desolate settlement where convicts are transported.

Probably one of the quaintest convicts who crossed the passes and entered this penal settlement, writes Captain H. L. Haughton in "Sport and Folk Lore in the Himalaya," was a fine tabby cat. This cat was convicted of no less offense than that of killing and devouring a parrot and a pet myna belonging to the old maharajah and was sentenced to penal servitude for life. A very old officer of the Kashmir army told the writer that he remembered this cat in Bunji, and that it was allowed a ration of flour daily by the state.

Captain Haughton alludes also to a case where a dog and a pestle were brought to trial.

A dog playing in the courtyard of a native house ran against a big wooden pestle used for pounding grain, which in falling killed a baby sleeping underneath it. The dog and the pestle were both brought before the judge, who convicted them both and sentenced them to a term of hard labor.

Living Rent Free.

In Sydney street, Chelsea, England, people are living rent free. But this is not the only place so distinguished. When the lease of a house in parts of England is running out the owner sometimes finds it more economical to abandon his property and avoid paying the ground landlord $500 or so on what are termed dilapidations. Meanwhile the tenant lives happily without a landlord. Some houses are forsaken even when the leases are not expiring. Here the explanation is that the owners are mortgaged up to the extreme limit. If tax rates go up and rents go down there is no balance left to maintain the property and so it is not worth keeping. Should the property require heavy expenditure for repairs the mortgagees refrain from claiming it. Occasionally, too, owners die, leaving no one to succeed them, and then tenants with sufficient audacity can lie low and "squat" until twenty years' undisturbed possession gives them permanent ownership.

Picked the One Fitting Word.

In the opinion of fastidious judges as well as in that of the public John Bright was the best parliamentary speaker of his day. He had all the physical attributes of a great orator, including a splendid voice. His diction, drawn largely from the English Bible and Milton, was further enriched by a knowledge of all the great English poets, and his most recent biographer, George Macaulay Trevelyan, claims for him the additional distinction of an intuition for the right word that was almost unerring.

In the house of commons at the crisis of the Crimean war Bright daintily said:

"The angel of death has been abroad throughout the land; you may almost hear the beating of his wings."

He carried it off triumphantly, but Cobden afterward said to him:

"If you had said 'flapping' the house would have laughed."

FATTENING STEERS WITHOUT CORN

How a Kansas feeder who had little corn to give his cattle made a success of a ration in which corn had no place is told in a recent issue of the Kansas Farmer. That paper says:

C. F. Benson has reported the results of the first forty-five days on a bunch of steers which he has been feeding without corn. Mr. Benson filled his silo with corn, there being but little corn matured on the crop that he used in the feeding. He also saved the first cutting of clover hay, getting it up at the right time so that the quality was exceptionally good.

On Nov. 15 Mr. Benson bought sixty-one head of steers, averaging 922 pounds in weight. They were rather plain, native cattle. On getting them home they were placed in a feed lot and for the first fifteen days had free access to straw and were given three pounds of cottonseed meal daily per steer and all the silage they would clean up.

Beginning on the first day of December these cattle were given a feed of

The Aberdeen-Angus breed of beef cattle have of late years forced to the front as economical producers of beef of the highest quality. At the International Live Stock show they beat all comers in carcass lots as well as in exhibits of single fat animals of all beef breeds the Aberdeen-Angus carried away the prizes, including the grand championship. At the present time the Aberdeen-Angus is probably the most popular of the beef breeds in this country. The illustration pictures the grade Aberdeen-Angus steer which won the grand championship at the International.

clover hay during the middle of the day, each steer receiving about fifteen pounds. The cottonseed meal in the meanwhile had been increased to five pounds per head. The whole ration of cottonseed meal was fed with the morning feed of silage, and in the evening they were given another feed of silage, the total consumption daily amounting to about thirty pounds per steer. Mr. Benson reports that on the first day of January he weighed these cattle and found they had made a gain of 152 pounds per steer. Mr. Benson thought he should allow for a 3 per cent shrinkage, which would make the net gain per steer 120 pounds for the forty-five days since they were started on the feed.

The plan is to continue feeding these cattle for thirty days more without corn and then add some shelled corn to the ration for the next thirty days. So far the results in feeding this bunch of steers have been very satisfactory to the owner.

Pasture For Swine.

Professor John M. Eppard, swine expert at the Iowa experiment station, in a recent address pointed out the respects in which corn was deficient as a food for animals and then proceeded to show how this deficiency can best be met. Forage crops, when they can be had, offer the best means of meeting this lack and among these crops rape and alfalfa stand out pre-eminent.

In fact, rape is without a peer. It is the best of all forages for swine, feeding value alone considered. It is second to alfalfa only in number of pigs which it can support per acre (twenty-five for rape and forty-three for alfalfa) and in ease of management. In order of general desirability red clover comes next, followed by blue grass and sweet clover.

Groom the Colts.

Groom the young colts just as regularly and just as thoroughly as the other horses. This is necessary for the sake of the health of the young animals, and it gives good results in other ways. The colt that is accustomed early in life to stand quietly and submit to a thorough grooming with curry-comb and brush will be a more valuable animal when the time comes to break it to harness than the animal that has never been touched since it was a suckling colt. It always pays to begin handling the colts at an early date.

Live Stock Comfort Pays.

Do not forget to provide for the comfort of your live stock of every kind. Get up bedding and see that the stalls for the horses and cattle and the quarters for all other kinds of live stock are well bedded and made comfortable. In this way not only will the stock winter better and on less feed, but a large quantity of manure can be provided for next summer's crops. Manure, above all other things, is what much of our lands need most.
